

THE GLEICHEN CALL

TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 44 GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, WEDNESDAY JANUARY 17, 1934 SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

BOARD OF TRADE REVIEWS WORK OF PAST YEAR

The Gleichen Board of Trade reviewed its 1933 activities at the annual meeting held in Laidlaw's Office Shop. Pres. N. T. Purcell opened the meeting and during the session gave a report on the various phases of work fostered and undertaken by the board during the past year. The organization has had a very busy time and has been contributing to many diversified interests in the public life of the town.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the Board of Trade was the installation of a public library which is open to anyone free of charge with only a small deposit of 25c per book required, which is, however, refunded when books are no longer required. There are now some 400 books on the shelves.

The horticultural association has also been functioning successfully under the auspices of the Board. Assistance was given the Athletic Club of Gleichen, The Boy Scouts and the Girl Guides are further aided by the Board of Trade financially and otherwise. The Old Timers Ball was held under the auspices of this organization and the first Old Timers organization of Gleichen was formed at this re-union with splendid results. The tree planting campaign was another successful enterprise and as a result in the course of a few years Gleichen will be able to boast of one of the finest small parks and lake surroundings at the site of the reservoir feeding the irrigation system of Gleichen, coupled with up-to-date swimming and bathing accommodation.

W. Stupmiller reported on the financial standing of the Club which was improved over last year with all undertakings of the Board carried out and paid for. Nearly $100 had been spent on trees. Some $30 were donated to the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides. The Old Timers had been fete. Also many other items were supported during the year.

Some correspondence was read and a book policing the town. A statement was read pointing out that the vacancies on the town council numbered three this year and will necessitate candidates being elected. The vacancies on the school board will number two.

R. A. Brown and N. T. Purcell were appointed a committee to select candidates for the vacancies on the school board, while S. E. Daffoe and Dr. Farquharson are to select candidates for the vacancies on the town council.

An amendment to a motion carried, moved by J. Greer and Geo. H. Gooderham, to the effect that every other meeting be held with luncheon and speaker provided for the occasion. Every other monthly meeting will be held in the Club Room of the Community Hall.

The election of officers resulted as follows: John Boyd was elected president by acclamation. W. W. Smith was elected vice-president. W. Stupmiller was unanimously re-elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The following were present: M. Brown, W. W. Smith, R. A. Brown, J. L. Phillips, James Black, A. R. Yates, S. W. Wain, A. J. Spethland, C. Johnson, J. F. Gorrill, E. J. Garland, M. Murray, A. F. MacCallum, J. Greer, Geo. H. Gooderham, A. C. Robertson, N. T. Purcell, Dr. Farquharson, M. Bollinger, John Boyd, W. Stupmiller, Chas. Thompson, S. E. Daffoe, W. W. Jeffers.

The new president stated that at the next meeting he would like everyone to bring in one suggestion for Board of Trade activity for 1934.

JOHN GLAMBECK WRITES FROM SAN FRANCISCO

I arrived at San Francisco at an opportune time, the day before prohibition went out and the town became wide open. The first thing I noticed was a parade of big trucks going up Market Street, loaded with wine barrels and boxes of wine bottles. Every truck horn screamed as loud as it could, the drivers yelled and the crowds along the sidewalk screamed in pure joy. The windows in every grocery store, meat market, restaurant, drug store and candy store had big window displays of choice bottled goods and great crowds gazed longingly at the wet goods and smacked their lips in anticipation of the fine time they would have in the morning, after having thrived for 14 years.

Whisky, rum, gin and wine can now be bought in almost any store and you can have it delivered along with your tea, coffee, meat and potatoes. But you cannot drink in in the place of purchase. You may buy a bottle and go out and drink it on the sidewalk, go in and get another and keep it up until you can swallow no more.

There is a protest, against this regulation and the papers argue that people had got used to buying and drinking the liquor at speakeasies and when you compel them to drink it at home the speaks will still flourish. Then there were protests against the price of whisky, which was $15.00 a pint at the start. Wine prices ran from 65 cents, 75 cents a bottle to $1.00 per wine higher. A woman kicked in a plate glass window and a pile of glass rolled out on the sidewalk, she did it in protest against the high price of whisky. However, after a few days a whisky war broke out and department stores are now selling pinks at sixteen 90 cents and a dollar. Beer is sold in bottles in stores and restaurants and at regular drinking places. It is to be a glass, according to size.

You can go up to the bar and put one foot in the brass rail and leave the bar, spit on the floor, same as in the old saloons. The three and a half per cent beer is poor stuff without any kick to it, and the more you drink the weaker you feel. But the California brewers have promised that shortly California will have the strongest beer in any state, and already you can buy beer, aimed to be five per cent, at 10c a bottle.

Apparently Roosevelt's National Recovery Act is doing some good. More people are working and business seems to be better than last year, but practically everything except sugar, fruit and vegetables, have gone up in price, which makes living much higher and as wages remain the same, with the shortening of the day, the workers complain that they are getting less under the new arrangement. Work is progressing slowly but surely on the two new Bay bridges, but at a few nights ago during a severe storm, 1000 feet of trestle went out in the ocean, causing great loss and delay.

The weather here this time of the year is fairly good, neither too warm nor too cold, although there are days when an overcast comes in handy. There is much fog and rain this time of the year. It generally rains during the night and clears up and gets warm during the day. Sugar is cheap, four and half cents a pound, butter, eggs, cheese, and meats sell for about the same as in Alberta. You can buy grapes two pounds for 5c, fresh green peas and string beans around 5 cents a quart, and fresh strawberries, big as a plum but not tasting as good as the Alberta berries, for 10 cents a box.

JOHN GLAMBECK.

M. D. OF BLACKFOOT COUNCILLORS HOLD MEETING

The first meeting of the Blackfoot municipal council for the year 1934, was held on Tuesday January 9th in the municipal office and commenced at 11 a.m. The councillors present were: Hovey Thorssen, Deputy Reeve, Umbricht, Bollinger, Deschamps, Nelson and Wheatley.

A letter from the Collection Branch

department of Municipal Affairs regarding 1931 and 1932 seed grain liens was read.

The councillors decided to accept the sum of $64.08 from the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. and discharge seed grain lien from the south was a lien and one and eight of four in 24-21-4th, the said land is being of has been repossessed by its company. Mr. H. J. Prestwick on behalf of the trustees of Hammer Hill school discussed school finances with the council at length. At the end of 1933 the school indebtedness was $50 and their cash balance $11.00. The ability of the municipality to pay was determined by collections and it was suggested the taxpayers concerned be requested, at their annual meeting, to do what they could and the council would do likewise.

It was announced that there was no freight charges on fodder between Hussa and Ardmore. A motion was carried that each member of the council be a committee of one to deal with the approving of freight applications for division of the municipality which he represents.

An inspector from the Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, was expected any day to go into the question of fodder relief. Farmers on dry lands on the area between Crowsfoot and Chancellors were chiefly affected by feed shortage. Mr. Buckley, M. L. A. had followed up the request of the council and reported the above.

Reeve Thorssen reported on the tentative agreement whereby the Municipality would receive $1330 on taxes upon 1 and 12 in 22-21-4th, which had been approved by the council. As soon as the receiver was protected the council expected to receive this money. The municipality would be obliged to pay their own legal fees, which was satisfactory to the council. The action had been settled out of court.

The question of an extension of 30 days to pay consolidated tax instalments came up. Coun. Wheatley carried the following motion: That we give a similar concession to ratepayers who are not within the scope of the Tax Consolidation Act. The secretary-treasurer is therefore authorized to accept taxes without the 1933 amended 18th penalty and to give discounts upon the 1933 taxes up to including our next council meeting in the second Tuesday in February.

An amendment was made to the motion by Coun. Bollinger and carried: That Mr. Wheatley's motion be amended to read during the month of January 1934.

It was recommended by the Council that $20 a month Old Age Pension be granted to Mrs. Ann Robson, of Cluny.

The accounts and pay sheets as asked by the finance committee were passed and ordered paid.

ANNUAL MEETING WOMEN'S ASSOC. UNITED CHURCH

The Women's Association of the United Church met at the Manse for their annual meeting. Splendid reports were given from the treasurer and secretary. It was felt that 1933 had been a very successful year both socially and financially.

Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert expressed their appreciation of the help received during the year. The assistance given by non-members of the association when called upon on several occasions could not be over estimated.

The membership of the association is small but it is hoped that it may be increased in 1934.

The new slate of officers are: President, Mrs. G. H. Gooderham. Vice-President, Mrs. L. Jeffers. Secretary, Mrs. Lindquist. Treasurer, Mrs. Hunter.

JUNIOR ACES STILL HOLD WINNING STREAK

The Gleichen Juvenile Aces played the Strathmore Juvenile Hornets on Saturday night last Saturday night. The score was 3-2 in favor of the Aces. In the first period W. Lester made a goal with R. Lester assisting. Then M. Murray made a goal unassisted. In the second period VanTighem got the first goal for Strathmore, then Taylor assisted by F. Ridley. The third R. Desjardine made a goal assisted by N. Schnepp. The tie was in poor condition and broke up many good combination plays. The outstanding Gleichen players were the combinations of W. and E. Lester, Murray and R. Desjardine and Bogstie in goal. Outstanding Strathmore players were Taylor, VanTighem and Ridley helpers.

Gleichen lineup: Bogstie, Murray, Latoski, R. Desjardine, Schnepp, C. Clifford, R. Bell, W. Lester, E. Lester and A. McEwen.

Strathmore lineup: Callaghan, VanTighem, Schulte, F. Ridley, W. Ridley, Taylor, Crellin, Lydiat, Garrett and Brown.

MANY HOCKEY GAMES SLATED FOR GUNNERS

Thursday the Gunners go to Olds where they will run up against the old goal keeper, Jack Roberts. On the following Thursday Olds will play a return game here. Much interest is being taken locally over these two games and a large crowd should be on deck to witness these exhibitions.

On Monday 29th Vulcan will play Gleichen a return game. This is another tilt that should be very interesting from both players and spectators stand points. The match will be played at the old rink in the main point of view.

For the third time this winter the Strathmore and Gleichen hockey clubs clashed with Strathmore on the victorious end of a 1-0 score. The game was fast and exceptionally clean both sides playing a game that was a good exhibition of hockey. The first period was scoreless with both teams making many dangerous plays. There was plenty of good hockey with many hot shots on both goals but great work on the part of Cleve and Wilson saved many a sure goal. In eight minutes of the middle session Eddie Crellin and Jack Crellin got through twice. On the second occasion Jack slammed home a counter on a pass from Eddie to place the Red Wings in the lead which they held until the final In the third Strathmore went into a defensive game to protect their one goal lead. E. Giroux and C. Brown were the only two to receive a penalty.

Strathmore lineup: Cleve, E. Giroux, VanTighem, E. Collison, G. Giroux, E. Giroux, E. Crellin, E. Crellin, Christensen, McGregor.

Gunners: A. Wilson, Johnston, Marquardt, Maynard, C. Brown, T. Brown, Bulmer, Simpson, McKay, Nelson, Taylor, Coach Bob Brown.

Referee, Geo. Giroux, Strathmore. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fleury, a son, on Sunday January 14th.

PAGE HITTER

A few days ago we noticed one of our merchants standing over a case of eggs in the grading corner, cursing quietly to himself and at the same time trying to explain to his customer some of the high spots in the new egg regulations, which are now governing the buying and selling of eggs. Here is an item that his customer said must have been got up by Hitler and reads as follows: "Yolk outline must be distinct, yolk shadow reasonably small, and round in shape, maintaining position in centre of egg. Yolk shall float slightly, mottled yolks not allowed. Float- ing cells not allowed, no visible germ spots is not allowed, etc."

If you can beat this for red tape you will have to rise earlier in the morning, and this clause is only one of the fifty or so governing the egg deal.

The customer in this case remarked that she would sell the hens all about it and if they laid eggs that did not toe the mark R. Myself cut off their heads and prepare them for

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH W. A. APPOINT OFFICERS

The W. A. of St. Andrew's Church held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. MacCallum on Thursday, January 11th. Very encouraging reports were received from the secretary and treasurer. Many pleasant social affairs had been successfully carried out during the year.

Mrs. James, the president, expressed her appreciation of the support given her and the splendid spirit of co-operation enjoyed throughout the year just closed. It was felt that the contribution of the members to the life of the church could not be estimated from a financial standpoint alone. Mr. House addressed the gathering and urged the members to attend church more regularly.

The new year is looked forward to with enthusiasm, when a lively interest will be taken in the young people.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. Pres. Mrs. A. E. Jones
Hon. Vice-Pres. Mrs. House, Sr.
Pres. Mrs. W. H. James
Vice-Pres. Mrs. J. E. Ostrander

Mature Age and Efficiency

An Eastern professor recently informed a gathering of Eastern educationists that no person over 40 years of age should be permitted to teach school. This recalls that other dictum of that famous doctor who said that every person over 65 should be quietly chloroformed. Both statements fail to convince because they are so palpably overstatements.

It is true, of course, that youth is becoming more insistent for recognition in the world of affairs, mainly because the problems of the times appear to call for that courage, initiative and energy which are compact of youth. The war robbed one generation of its brightness and opportunities. The depression appears to this generation to have repeated the process. That youth should be insurgent against conditions which they did nothing to bring about, is natural in the circumstances, and, possibly, salutary in the result. The Communist movement in Russia was energized by the youth of Russia; Mussolini recruited his Fascist army from the ranks of youth. Hitler has enrolled German youth under the Nazi banner. These are manifestations of youth's protest against forces inimical, they believe, to youth's fulfillment.

The trouble is to set a hard and fast line where youth ends and age begins. If that were possible, it would be possible more accurately to estimate the significance of the two statements and their many imputations and implications. But there is no such line. It is possible to cite instances innumerable of men beyond forty who have proved great teachers of the young; and men who have made their greatest contributions to civilization after passing sixty-five. Had Arnold of Ebor been forced to retire at 40, British education would have been that much poorer. Had Edison acknowledged his faculties exhausted at that age, much of his work for the advancement of science and enhancement of living, would have been left undone. Had forty seen the vitality of Einstein's mental powers reach its zenith, there would not have been that competition among the great institutions of learning for his services which follows his coming from Germany. It was after he had passed the age of forty, that Henry Ford had his great idea and launched the enterprises coupled with his name. The tally of similar examples can be carried ad infinitum.

In the political field, President Roosevelt, far beyond the assigned "deadline" of forty, has tackled the vast problems of his country with a courage, vigor and zest which qualify him for a place with youth in these characteristics. Ramsay MacDonald, with equal energy and resource, did not hesitate, when the needs of his country called for drastic action, to scrap the ideals of a lifetime for ideas of more practical efficacy in the crisis of the hour. The youth of Russia, Germany and Italy accepted leadership of men beyond the "allotted span," because these men oriented the chaos of ideas torturing the youthful minds. Youth, apparently, construed in terms of abstract qualities, cannot be measured by age,—which suggests the well-known saying, "A man is as old as he feels."

There must be some reason for a prominent educationist to make so startling a statement to a gathering of educationists however. It is impossible to believe that, with such an audience, he spoke in jest, in an idle moment or without proper forethought. Perhaps his inspiration may be found in the work of the Spanish philosopher, Ortega y Gasset, who, in "The Modern Theme," has suggested that each generation is distinct in itself, that it differs in its reactions to ideas and environment from the generations preceding it. If this thesis be admitted, it would follow, of course, that one generation's viewpoint, being radically different from that of the one succeeding it, the former is out of touch with the youth of its own day and therefore not qualified to be its mentor. The more remote the generation from that of school age, the more out of touch it would be with the student's ideas and ideals.

Whatever the difference, custom has decreed that the one should be vested with the tutelage of the other. It is difficult to see how it could be otherwise. While there may be something in the contention that the generation from which the teacher be drawn should not be too remote from that furnishing the school population of today, it must not be forgotten that the knowledge gleaned from experience of life and living acquired by the older generation must be of inestimable value in preparing the young for their responsibilities.

After all, no new social structure is created with each new generation. They may improve, or remodel,—and the social structure characteristic of western civilization is the cumulative result of such improvements. Something constant is imparted from generation to generation however. So long as this condition exists, the accumulated experience of the past must retain its value and, finding expression through the process of education, in school or in the home, be passed on to those preparing themselves for the duties and responsibilities of full citizenship.

Youth demands recognition and should be recognized. But an intelligent definition of youth, other than that of mere time, is necessary to complete acceptance of the statement that no person over forty should be entrusted with the task of teaching youth. Science gradually is extending the period described by life insurance companies as "life expectancy." Why bother, if chloroform is the best potion when one has reached sixty-five?

Rule For Egg Shipments

No Canadian eggs are allowed to be exported out of Canada unless they are packed in Canadian Standard cases—each case contains 30 dozen eggs—in new dry export flats and slats, and with new kiln dried, paper-covered, exoclear pads at top and bottom, or with any other pad, flat, or cushion approved by the Dominion Minister of Agriculture.

Hold Strange Congress

Romanies of World Plan Establishment of Stable Community

"Chips of the world unite!" is the motto of the General Association of Romanies which held a strange congress in Bucharest.

The wave of fanatic nationalism which is sweeping these parts of Europe has also affected the nomads who want to give up their free and easy life and organize themselves into a race-conscious and stable community. Thus the last citadel of romanticism and liberalism in its absolute sense is about to be ruined. It will be replaced, in all probability by political demagoguery.

Hundreds of Romanies in picturesque dresses came to the congress, flocking in from all corners of the country. The meeting took place in the open air, in the great quarters of Bucharest which consists of innumerable mud huts built around a pedestrian lane on the outskirts of the city. A regiment of gendarmes took care that the participants behaved themselves.

The congress was held in perfect order. The gipsies seemed convinced that they were entering upon a new era of "national dignity," as was announced by their leader, George A. Laurian, who was exceptionally well versed in oratory. Following are some of his most galvanizing phrases: "We are a great and noble race. We don't want to be ridiculed and treated as the dogs of society. Let us form a strong Romania in Romania, and all the Romanies of the world will be inspired by us and become proud of their race."

Unusual Staff Employed

Work in London Restaurant Done By Ex-Convicts

London has a restaurant which is partly staffed by ex-convicts and men and boys who are on probation, the proprietor being a former convict. Connected with the Howard League for Penal Reform and very much interested in the work of assisting "old lags" to reform. The results of this unusual venture are said to be satisfactory.

Arnold Hall began in 1926 in a cellar, with a convict who had been 33 years in prison, a large piece of cloth and himself. They did upholstery work until they had accumulated some money and the present restaurant grew from this small beginning. The thing works very harmoniously and the men are extremely happy. Mr. Hall said. He explained that the restaurant at which from 80 to 90 lunches are served every day is not only giving the men their industrial opportunity, but it is providing an acid test as to their intentions to go straight.

The men started with a wage of five shillings a week and their lunches for a fortnight. After that they were given 25 shillings a week and later, if they are doing well, they receive 35 shillings a week. Eventually they are made waiters and receive 18 shillings a week, their lunches, insurance and about 20 shillings in tips. There are men working in the restaurant who have been in prison for more than 30 years. Boys are sent to him instead of to Borstal, the magistrate paying their wages.

Curusaw In St. Louis Zoo

Men Foster Mother Cannot Under-

Among strange friends can be added the attachment at the zoo, in St. Louis, of a baby crested curusaw and an ordinary domestic hen.

The reason is strange, too, but undeniable. Knowing that a curusaw, a black bird glossed with purple, does not usually care for its eggs, zoo officials put several under a domestic hen. Much to their surprise, one of the eggs hatched.

The antics of the youngster have amused the hen, frank, but it's a common sight at the zoo to see the little bird, which will come day attain the size of a small turkey, ride about on the back of its foster-mother.

Satisfied Was Night

The townsman had been particularly interested in the skilful driving of an old farm-hand.

"Aye, mister, it is," was the reply. "It's kicked me three times, and a-lags in the same place!"

WORKED ONLY ONE WEEK IN TWO

Sciatica Kicked Him At Home

It is the wife who sends us this information about her husband's troubles. She writes:—"For some time past, my husband has been unable to give up his work on account of sciatica. He suffered so much from it that he could scarcely move for the pain. We tried many things, but without result. Then we saw in the papers an account of the good results that had been obtained from Kruschen Salt, and we decided to give them a trial. For twelve months past, my husband has been kicking his 'little demon' of Kruschen every morning. Now, he has no more trouble with the sciatica, and is working regularly."—(Mrs. M.)

Doctors estimate that one-half of civilized humanity suffers from partial constipation. This condition results in an unsuspected residue of waste matter, which poisons the blood and produces sciatica, as well as many of the mystery aches and pains from which people suffer. Kruschen keeps the organs of elimination in perfect trim, so that every particle of poisonous waste material is expelled gently, regularly and completely.

Just British Justice

Full Judgment Given Eamon De

Valera in Will Case
Miss Mary Fitzpatrick, a resident of Brighton, in England, dying last year, bequeathed an estate of $15,000 in England to Eamon de Valera, President of the Irish Free State.

John Fitzpatrick, of Dublin, a brother of Miss Fitzpatrick, contested the will, alleging that Miss Fitzpatrick was not of sound mind, and did not know or approve of the contents of the will.

Mr. de Valera took action in the Irish Probate Court to enforce the will.

Mr. Justice Bateson, sitting in London, gave full judgment for Mr. de Valera. He said he was satisfied Miss Fitzpatrick was of perfectly sound mind, and that John Fitzpatrick had completely failed to make out his case.

The London Times report of the suit, Dec. 14, is headed simply "Action by Mr. De Valera." There was no comment on the judgment in the Times so far as we have noticed, in any British paper.

Just a matter of course—British law, a British court, justice.

One can imagine a good many countries in which, under corresponding circumstances, the corresponding result could not be so easily predicted, or at best such a matter-of-fact silence about it. Just justice.—Ottawa Journal.

Expect Increase In Live Cattle Shipments

Canadian Officials Anticipate Better

Market in United Kingdom
Officials of the agricultural department look forward to a good year in the export trade of live cattle from Canada to the United Kingdom, despite the quota which will limit shipments for the first three months. The limit is slightly under 5,000 head, equal to what was shipped last year during the same three months.

The United Kingdom had a shortage of root crops last season. The result was that many cattle entered the country in great numbers for slaughter when only partly finished. The shortage of feed in Canada also caused many unfinished cattle in this country to be shipped to Great Britain. The result had a depressing effect on the market, which was injurious to both British and Canadian cattle raisers.

Basis Of Egg Weight

The attention of egg shippers and egg packers is called by the Dominion Department of Agriculture to the fact that in the standard egg grades, individual eggs serve as the basis of weight rather than dozen or case lots. In the instance of Grade "A" large, for example, each individual egg in the pack is required to weigh two ounces and over. Similarly in the medium pack each individual egg should weigh at the rate of 22 ounces and under 24 to the dozen.

Believes In Simple Life

Hitler Rises At Six And Puts In Busy Day

Hard work and utmost simplicity mark the daily life of Adolf Hitler, real dictator of Germany, now that the elections have returned him to uncontented power.

Hitler lives in a small apartment in the new annex of the reich chancellery, completely only two years ago. Only his faithful chauffeur, an old war comrade, with whom he has covered many thousands of miles all over Germany, and the latter's wife are sharing this apartment. She is, at the same time, his housekeeper and has even to do the chancellery's laundry.

Frau von Papen, the vice-chancellor's wife, who lives only a few hours away in the Wilhelmstrasse, casts an eye from time to time over the bachelor-chancellor's household. Sincere personal friendship now links Hitler with the aristocratic rival of his former political rival.

Hitler is an early riser. Though his day always ends late at night, he is often up again at 6 a.m. The telephones are already ringing when he takes breakfast between 6:30 and 7:00.

The personal expenses of the chancellor are very modest. He turns a salary over to a special fund for needy families, members of the Stormtroops killed during the years of street fighting, or disabled Stormtroops. His large income Hitler may derive from his book and from his share in the "Völkischer Beobachter," now Germany's largest paper, are mostly spent for the upkeep of the Nazi party machine.

Hitler never attends any social events, but whenever he finds time he likes to go to the theatre or opera. Wagner's works are his favorites. For other recreation he reads as much as he can in his scant spare time.

On the few week-ends which are not filled with official functions, such as the laying of cornerstones, unveiling of monuments, or the meeting of some important professional or party organization, he rushes by aeroplane to Bavaria, to spend a day or two at his cottage at Obersalzberg, near Berchtesgaden among his beloved Bavarian Alps.

Is All Wrong

Scientists Maintain Rare Meat Less Nutritious Than Well Done

Modern Samsons who attribute their muscular superiority solely to the fact that they munch their daily ration of meat when it is raw, rare and juicy, are all wrong, according to two British scientists.

These two scientists assert that contrary to popular belief, underdone meat is less nutritious than the more thoroughly cooked.

Other culinary customs, which have stood the test of a thousand years, are upset by the research workers, who declare that a hot oven is unnecessary for the initial stages of roasting as the high temperature does not form a juice-retaining pellicle on the meat.

Barbecue fans will thrill to the knowledge that meat roasted in the open is more nutritious than in the oven. Steaming, grilling and frying are found to result in smaller losses of mineral salts than either steaming or boiling.

The two main losses result from cooking, shrinkage and loss of the valuable mineral salts on which nutrition depends. The investigators say that overcooked meat contains, pound for pound, more protein and more fat than underdone.

Little Investors Save Billions

National Savings Movement In England Has Proved Success

British thrift is increasingly becoming a national virtue, as indicated by figures given by Walter H. Furnham, president of the London Board of Trade, in connection with the national savings movement.

"The total wealth of small investors in various types of investment at a conservative estimate," he said, "reaches the stupendous figure of £2,833,250,000 (approximately $14,165,250,000). What with this national savings movement and all that pertains to it, there is very little doubt that we need have no fear as to the country being swept away on a wave of Bolshevism."

Lord Mottistone, chairman of the movement, stated that the increase in the amount standing to the credit of depositors in the post office and trustee savings banks and to investors in national savings certificates and in government stocks purchased through the savings banks during the last three years, in spite of the financial crisis, was more than 54 times the increase during the previous three years.

Reach Highest Level

British Columbia's Foreign Lumber Exports Greatly Increased Last Year

In spite of the general reduction in the volume of world trade, lumber exports from British Columbia to points outside of North America have reached the highest level in the history of the industry, exceeding the previous record established in 1930 by 110 million feet or 35 per cent, 209 million feet having gone from this province to Great Britain alone. Instead of one-fourth, British Columbia is now shipping almost three-fourths of its sawn lumber to overseas destinations and is the leading lumber exporting area of North America. Total shipments during the first nine months of 1933 approximated the total for the whole of 1932.—Victoria, B.C., Times.

Just About Equal

The Rocky Mountains and the maritimes are just about equal in the mind of Airman Humphrey Madden. Forced to a low altitude by rain, sleet, strong headwinds and ice forming on the wings while flying from New Glasgow to Halifax, early in January, Pilot Madden said it was the toughest flight in his experience—nearly corresponding to a hazardous crossing of the Rocky Mountains he had once made.

INTERRUPTING THE CIRCULATION OF MONEY

The monetary system of Canada was seriously upset recently by the actions of the United Church of Canada. The church authorities acted innocently enough but nevertheless they caused considerable inconvenience to the finance department. In order to raise money for relief the church heads sent out one hundred thousand boxes to families all over Canada. Every family who obtained a box was expected to place one cent therein before each meal. When full, the boxes contained twenty million cents.

Before many weeks had elapsed the financial authorities at Ottawa noticed that one cent pieces were disappearing from circulation at a rapid rate. Fresh quantities of the humble cents were issued and still some mysterious source swallowed them up wholesale. Ottawa became alarmed and an immediate search was undertaken to find out what was happening to the copper coinage of the realm. Newspaper publicity resulted in finding the culprit. Rather sheepishly the United Church admitted its scheme was responsible and arranged for a more frequent opening of its collection boxes.

The moral of this true story is that money—even one cent pieces—must be circulated and not to be hoarded.
